Rethink the Refuge

Thank you for your interest in helping us rethink the refuge. Support from farmers, legislators, and neighbors is critical to maintaining a healthy environment and economy that benefits the people of Illinois. We encourage you to contact us with your questions if you're interested in learning more about our efforts.

If you're interested in sharing a story about your farm, learning about conservation efforts in your area, or knowing how you can be more involved, we invite you to connect with us.
